

SIRS, I am appalled that you would even consider changing the "NO CALL LIST" to accomodate 'the banking institutions'. This would definitely invade the privacy of my HOME. At present, I know when the phone rings dudring the day (when I am busy) or in the evening (when I am relaxing), it is a friend or family, and whose call I welcome. Please consider the many, many people who requested to be placed on THE NO CALL LIST. THANKS (I HOPE).
